6 Firms Fined $150,000 In Antitrust Case

General Electric,
Westinghouse Each
Must Pay $40,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of antitrust laws.

J. H. Chiles, a Westinghouse vice president, was given a 30-day jail term, one of the few times a defendant was sentenced to jail in an antitrust case. Chiles also was fined $20,000.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system.

Each Fined $40,000

General Electric and Westinghouse each received $40,000 fines on the first count, involving the sale of power transformer equipment. On the same count, Judge Ganey fined Allis-Chalmers $25,000; McGraw-Edison $20,000; Moloney Electric Co., $15,000 and Wagner Electric $10,000.

In his pre-sentencing remarks, Judge Ganey said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what has happened. Accordingly heavy fines will be imposed on the companies."

As for the individual defendants, Ganey said he would impose jail terms only on those responsible for corporation policy.

The case involves 29 of the nation's largest electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 of their employees.

There was a total of 72 pleas of guilty and 9 of nolo contendere (no defense) to 20 indictments for fixing prices and rigging bids at secret meetings all over the United States.

The nation's biggest electrical makers — Westinghouse and General Electric — were named in 19 indictments each. Westinghouse pleaded guilty to seven; GE guilty to six; nolo in the rest.

Of the defendants, 57 were up for sentencing today. They included 21 corporations.

Corporations are liable to a maximum $50,000 fine on each indictment. Individuals, besides the $50,000 fine, can be sent to prison for a year.

If the maximum fines are imposed the total would be $8.05 million.

The government charged the conspiracy stifled competition in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act of 1890. All the defendants vigorously denied this at first, then later switched their innocent pleas as the government pressed for trial.

Civil Lawsuits Next

Following the sentencing, the next legal step, if any, could be civil lawsuits by governmental and private industry customers to recover damages for alleged overpayments for equipment used to generate, transmit and distribute electricity to almost every home in America.

Besides GE and Westinghouse the following firms entered one or more guilty pleas:

I-T-E Circuit Breaker Co., Philadelphia; Allis-Chalmers, West Allis, Wis.; Federal Pacific Electric Co., Newark, N.J.; Clark Contoller Co., Cleveland; Cutler-Hammer Inc., Milwaukee; Square D, Detroit; Ingersoll-Rand, Easton, Pa.; Foster Wheeler Corp., New York; C. H. Wheeler Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia; Worthington Corp., Harrison, N.J.; McGraw-Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.; Southern States Equipment Corp., Hampton, Ga.; H. K. Porter Co., Pittsburgh; Allen-Bradley, Milwaukee; Wagner Electric Co., St. Louis; Schwager-Wood Corp., Portland, Ore.; and Moloney Electric Co., St. Louis.

Pleaded No Contest

All except Schwager-Wood, Allen-Bradley, Clark Contoller, Ingersoll-Rand, C. H. Wheeler, Worthington and Foster-Wheeler also pleaded no contest.

Pleading no contest only were: Carrier Corp., Syracuse, N.Y.; Sangamo Electric Co., Piquette, S.C.; Ohio Brass Co., Mansfield, Ohio; Cornell-Dubilier Electric Corp., Plainfield, N.J.; Porcelain Insulator Co., Lima, N.Y.; Lapp Insulator Co., Le Roy, N.Y.; Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply Co., Chicago; A. N. Chance Co., Centerville, Mo.; Hubbard Co., Chicago; and Kuhlmann Electric Co., Troy, Mich.

Civil Defense Leaders Map Plans

Municipal civil defense plans and programs were discussed at a meeting of area leaders Sunday afternoon at the American Legion Home.

iary; Mrs. Effie Broomall, Legion Auxiliary president, and Atty. George H. Bowman, Jr., Salem CD director.

The group will meet again Sunday, Feb. 19, at 2 p.m. when the topic will be "Radiological Defense."

Interested persons are invited to future meetings when topics to be discussed will include attack warning notice, attack expectations, conflict of ideologies, citizenship and civil defense, the psychological effect on people, evacuation and shelter and the concept of mobilization.

The Legion drill team will form four 6-man teams for rescue work, John Herman announced. They met yesterday with R. R. Leach of the 31st Mobile Support Group.

Auto Mishaps Leave 6 Hurt

2 Pedestrians Among Weekend Casualties

A total of six persons were injured in various auto accidents reported by Columbiana and Mahoning County Highway Patrols over the weekend.

Two persons were injured in a two-car collision on Route 18, two miles west of the junction of Rt. 46, at 5:40 p.m. Sunday. The accident occurred as Mabel I. White, 45, of Youngstown, attempted to pass another car and skidded across the highway divider into the path of a westbound auto driven by Joseph L. Breznal, 40, of Silica Rd., Mineral Ridge.

Injured in the collision were Breznal, with possible fractured ribs, and his wife, Elizabeth Breznal, 39, with a possible dislocation of the left shoulder and lacerations of the nose. Both were taken to Youngstown Orthopedic Hospital for treatment.

Damage to both vehicles was extensive, patrolmen reported. Mrs. White was cited for reckless operation.

Two persons were injured in a two-car collision at 11:55 a.m. Saturday on Rt. 224, three miles west of the Pennsylvania state line.

A westbound auto driven by Donald S. Repasky, 28, RD 2, Lowellville, went out of control and left of center into the path of an eastbound car operated by Dorothy Patrick, 34, of Poland.

Injured in the accident and taken to South Side Hospital were Dorothy Patrick, with lacerations of the lower lip, fracture of the right knee and contusions of the chest, and her son, Ronald Patrick, 11, with lacerations of the lower lip and abrasions of the left leg.

Extensive damage was sustained by both cars. Repasky was cited.

A woman's handbag containing a billfold, a checkbook and $200 in cash were reported stolen Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Lena Pastorelli of 539 Walnut St. reported to police Saturday that she first missed her handbag at the A. & P. supermarket while shopping. She said she had the purse in her car. She called police later in the afternoon and informed them that a small boy found the checkbook later near Hogan's alley and S. Broadway.

Mrs. Lillian Ciotti, 193 Hawley Ave., reported to police Friday night that a snow shovel was stolen from her porch.

Bud Hoffman, 553 S. Union Ave., reported to police Saturday that an antenna was bent on his car Wednesday night while parked in the Salem City Hospital parking lot.

Hint Space Vehicle Unmanned

Soviets Keep Silent On Satellite's Fate

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union maintained an enigmatic and unusual silence today on the mission and fate of its massive new Sputnik. Western tracking stations picked up no trace of the satellite.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. Yevgeny Leonovich Klinov, hinted the seven-ton satellite, whose launching was announced Friday, was unmanned. He said it was designed to study the earth and its environment.

Moscow's official silence was in direct contrast to previous satellite launchings, when Soviet scientists routinely announced how equipment was functioning and the schedule of cities to be passed over.

Western experts speculated that either something went wrong with the new satellite or the Soviets were keeping some spectacular development a secret until its success was assured.

Western scientists especially noted the Soviets seemed in no hurry to answer speculation that the Sputnik might be carrying a man through space. The satellite is large enough to carry an astronaut—and perhaps two.

Italy's Communist party newspaper L'Unita reported in a Moscow dispatch that the Sputnik "almost certainly" was unmanned.

Britain's leading satellite-tracking expert, Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank Tracking Station, said, "there is certainly something rather odd about the long Russian silence on the satellite's progress."

He suggested the Sputnik's radio may have broken down or the Soviets might be transmitting on frequencies not used before.

"It may be, of course, that there is some living thing on board—not necessarily a man—and the Russians are saying nothing until they get the satellite safely back to earth," he said.

"If the silence continues, I shall be inclined to believe that something went wrong shortly after the launching," Lovell said. Japanese scientists said they picked up signals being transmitted today on frequencies normally used by Soviet satellites but said the signals seemed to be coming from a fixed station and not an orbiting object.

CHIMNEY SOOT IGNITES

Firemen were called to the residence of Philip Thayer, 460 Woodland Ave., at 12:31 a.m. today where soot in a chimney caught fire. There was no damage.

By The Associated Press

Northeastern areas, stunned by one of the worst storms in history, struggled today to overcome the devastation of a weekend storm that buried the area under up to 40 inches of snow.

In the nation's midsection, a new storm headed northeastward after dumping up to eight inches of snow on portions of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas and glazed nearby areas with freezing rain or sleet.

The storm was diminishing but will move across the Midwest and into the middle Mississippi Valley, Kentucky and Tennessee today.

Communities from the Carolinas northward into New England continued the massive task of attempting to restore order from the havoc wrought by the season's third major storm that virtually paralyzed the area over the weekend.

The howling storm, accompanied by winds up to 75 miles an hour, was blamed for nearly 100 deaths.

Gale force winds whipped the snow into gigantic drifts, severed utility lines and reduced travel to a bare minimum.

Numerous towns and cities, mostly in New England and New York, were under emergency conditions long after the storm roared out to sea off the tip of Nova Scotia early Sunday.

Air, rail and bus schedules were still a scramble Sunday night but officials held out hope that reasonable service would be restored today.

New York City, its 6,000 miles of streets nearly strangled with almost a foot and a half of snow, was still closed to all but emergency travel late Sunday.

The city's two major airports, Idlewild and La Guardia resumed operations Sunday night after being closed since Friday, forcing cancellation of some 2,600 flights. The four major railroads operating out of the city hoped to be back on schedule after a day of operation without the semblance of a timetable.

In Rhode Island, officials called the storm the worst in at least 57 years.

Among the hardest hit communities was Cortland, N.Y., which measured 40 inches of snow, the heaviest in the city's history. Boston had 14.4 inches but the northern areas of New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine escaped the full fury as the storm moved out to sea.

The storm came on the heels of 16 consecutive days of sub-freezing temperatures but the mercury was expected to climb in the sunny 30s today.

The storm moving northeastward out of the south central portion of the country was expected to spread sleet or snow from eastern Oklahoma, Kansas and northeast Texas across southern Arkansas and into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

18 Proposals Cited by JFK On Gold Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here, in brief, are the recommendations made by President Kennedy today to stem the outflow of gold and end the deficit in foreign exchange:

1. Studies of how to strengthen international monetary institutions to increase reserves to support a growing world economy.

2. International Monetary Fund — The United States has never used its right to draw on this fund to meet deficits in the balance of payments; if and when appropriate, this will be done.

3. Amendment of the law to permit setting of special interest rates for dollar holdings here of foreign governments to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold.

4. The recent order forbidding the holding of gold abroad by Americans will be maintained.

5. Senate action to approve the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) as a tool for maintaining better balance of payments.

6. Promotion of U.S. exports by the Department of Commerce.

7. Efforts to make American goods competitive in price with foreign products.

8. Strengthening the role of the Export-Import Bank to further help American exporters.

9. Promotion of foreign tourist travel to the United States.

10. Expanding exports of U.S. farm products.

Bailey Workers Pass Up Raise

Alternative Was Cut In Many Jobs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Company and union officials today hailed the action of Bailey Co. Department Store employees, who voted to pass up a previously negotiated $3.50 weekly increase in wages and benefits. They decided instead to take a $1 weekly pay raise, effective Feb. 1.

Union members in five Bailey stores voted on the company proposal Sunday. The company figures it will save $110,000 a year by the unusual action.

For the 800 sales clerks, office workers, elevator operators and porters at Cleveland's only organized department store the alternative was a possible cut in many jobs. Union officials said the average age of Bailey employees is 52, many of whom have worked at the company more than 25 years.

Union officials made no recommendation to the employees before the secret vote. Later, Cecil B. Dunlap, president of Retail Store Employees Union local 880, said: "This action is a union policy healthy to the community. When the employer was in need of help, the union pitched in."

Julius J. Aron, president of Century Food Markets Co. of Youngstown, which purchased the Bailey stores in 1958, said the company is in "excellent financial shape," and he has plans to make Bailey's successful in Cleveland. "Business is off right now," he said, "but we want to continue in Cleveland. We need to have a few things in our favor."

Rotarians Will Hold Rural-Urban Program

Dwight Beede, football coach at Youngstown University, will discuss "Trees and Their Importance in Columbiana County" when he is guest speaker at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday noon in the Memorial Building.

Maynard Brantingham is program chairman for this urban-rural day, which is observed annually by the Rotarians. E. U. Whitacre is chairman of the committee in charge.

PROBATION PROBE ORDERED

LISBON — A probation investigation has been ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp for William and Alma Milhorn, both of St. Clair Township, who changed their pleas to guilty of perjury this morning after being indicted in connection with a case in juvenile court. Their $1,000 bonds were continued pending a report by Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose.

Two Lawyers Honored by Bar Group

Although neither was able to be present, two veteran Columbiana County lawyers were recognized or their more than 30 years of service to the legal profession when the county bar association held a dinner meeting Saturday night at the Salem Golf Club.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw accepted an inscribed gavel for his father, former East Liverpool Municipal Judge George Brokaw, and Atty. William B. Moore, Jr., of Lisbon accepted a gavel for his father, Atty. W. B. Moore, Sr. Both honorees were ill.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin made the presentation for the bar association.

The principal speaker, Warren Guthrie of Cleveland, professor of speech at Western Reserve University, discussed the proper use of words, even in the legal profession where sometimes a dual-meaning word might lead to a wrong interpretation. "The Oddity of Language" was his topic.

Brief remarks were made by Common Pleas Judges Joel H. Sharp and Raymond Buzzard.

Nearly 100 attorneys and their wives were guests at the dinner event. Atty. Lozier Caplan, county bar association president, presided.

Probation Probe Ordered for Pair

LISBON — Probation investigation has been ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp for Bobby Borden and Henry Bailey of Warren who changed their pleas to guilty this morning in Common Pleas Court to a charge of stealing a portable television set from the Central Service in East Liverpool Nov. 18. Both were indicted by the January Grand Jury but pleaded not guilty at arraignment day Jan. 23. Their $1,000 bonds were continued and they were released pending a probation report by Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose.

Bailey's case was scheduled to begin this morning, followed by Borden's.

Move Planned To Help Check Gold Problem

Action Expected
To Cause Concern
In Some Countries

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American goods.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

Surprised By Extent

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businesses.

Rate Now 3 Per Cent

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible tax law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

Kennedy said there is time to deal with the gold drain "calmly and deliberately" and declared it can be stemmed without erecting trade barriers or hamstringing military and foreign aid programs. He said the first requirement "is to take all possible steps to insure the effective performance of our own economic system."

Promises Vigorous Action

He described the proposals outlined in his message as supplementary to that aim but said: "They are not for that reason any less important or less urgent."

He promised vigorous action where he has power to act and urged "early consideration and approval" of those measures which are subject to the will of Congress.

The President noted that the gold dollar stems largely from the fact that foreigners collect more than this country collects from them — $3.8 billion more in 1960.

This represents the deficit in the U.S. balance of international payments and means foreigners are receiving extra dollars which they may use to buy U.S. gold.

Controversial Subjects Lacking

Dullness Marks Fifth Week of 104th Ohio General Assembly

By DUANE E. CROFT
Salem News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio — The fifth week of the 104th Ohio General Assembly was dull.
At a time when the pace was expected to quicken, matters of consuming interest, either conversational or political, were almost totally lacking.
The two subjects which promised the most fireworks — jobless pay and the budget — fizzled for the moment at least.
On the unemployment situation, the Republican leadership of the Assembly was taken off the hook early in the week by, of all people, President John F. Kennedy.
House Speaker Roger Cloud announced at his Monday night press conference that it would be foolish for the Ohio Legislature to rush through a bill extending benefits beyond the standard 26 weeks without waiting to see what Congress would do.
Cites Kennedy Promise
He cited the President's promise in his State of the Union message that a recommendation would be made for action within 14 days on emergency relief for the long-time unemployed.
Although some state legislation on the subject was certain, the GOP leaders had made it clear the previous week that they were not going to be bulldozed into anything rash and hasty.
This had prompted spokesmen for the Ohio AFL-CIO to fire off a series of blasts charging the Republicans with "cruel" feet-dragging at a time when unemployment in the state was hovering around the 9 per cent mark.
But the potential donnybrook was dissipated when Mr. Kennedy addressed Congress at noon on Monday.
The Budget
As for the budget, the maneuvering that had erupted around Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's unbalanced appropriations proposal likewise came to a halt.
Finance Director James Malcom

complied with GOP requests for amendments to the bill that would strike out the items which unbalanced the budget — items originally included because they were what the governor believes are minimum improvements in five programs.
Decide To Wait
With the amendments in hand, however, Cloud told newsmen that he and Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, majority leader of the upper chamber, and their finance chairman had decided to wait for the administration to send up its complete budget document.
This massive book, which the governor has said will cover about 1,000 pages, contains detailed information on administrative operations as well as appropriations figures for the last two bienniums.
Cloud pointed out such data are indispensable to the finance committee in considering the suggested expenditures for the next two years. So, he added, it would be hard for the committee to hold meaningful hearings on the appropriations bills without the big book.
Fisher Unwilling
This meant there was no rush to introduce the bill, which has been held by House Finance Committee Chairman Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, simply because he was unwilling to place his name at the top of an opposition spending measure that on its face was $75 million out of line with anticipated income.
When will the budget battle resume? Cloud said DiSalle and Malcom have indicated the 1,000-page won't be ready until the middle of this month.
Introduction of Bills
Consequently, the only pace that visibly quickened during the week was the introduction of bills by members of the two houses. The total now stands at 478, slightly more than 25 per cent of the record number — 1,607 — that was dropped into the hopper of the 1959 session.

The collection of proposals to date contains some bombshells, and there will be more explosive issues in the bills yet to come. So it can't be said at this point that the 104th will wind up with the label of "do-nothing." It's just getting off to a slower start than a lot of people expected.
Says Charges Unfair
And on this score Cloud had some pointed remarks, too. It takes at least six weeks to get the 177-member assembly reved up to cruising speed, he said, and charges of feet-dragging are unfair.
This may have been a plea for a relaxation of the pressure on the leaders' offices. Few will argue that those gentlemen of influence can do with some relief from the glare of the spotlight.
Reading The Messages
One small controversy that breezed around during the week was over the reading of the governor's special messages, which he sends up to expound more fully his thoughts and recommendations in especially important fields.
Every member is provided with a copy in mimeographed form. The House dispensed with a floor reading on the first — on conflicts of interest — but heard the second — on a criminal conspiracy law.
The Senate skipped both of them, saying interested members could read their own copies.
Urges Messages Be Read
But most Democrats and many Republicans believe the messages should be read out of courtesy for the governor's position, if for no other reason.
When Democratic Sen. Frank King, minority floor leader, got up to protest the short shrift given the conspiracy message, he was cut off short by Mechem's motion to adjourn, which takes precedence over everything else in the parliamentary process.
That rubbed salt into the wound.
Statehouse Facelifting
Many habits of the Statehouse are hoping something will be done soon to complete the beautification of the historic capitol building.
Several years ago it got an exterior facelifting, set off brilliantly with floodlighting at night. Last year the Senate and House chambers were redecorated and are resplendent with new paint and gilt and repolished brass (the House has a new carpet, too).
The elected administrative officials keep their own offices in respectable condition.
Money's the Problem
That leaves the massive rotunda under the dome, which many legislators feel is nothing less than disgracefully dingy. The problem, of course, is money.
House Finance Chairman Fisher said last week he is in sympathy with the demands for renovation and plans to confer with Public Works Director Theodore Kauer on the possibility of getting at the job in the next biennium.
But even if a major project is out of the question that soon, it would help a little to replace the dirty, old-fashioned 48-star U.S. flag that is suspended in the center of the rotunda.
Sheriff VanFossan Issues Jail Report
LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports a total of 55 prisoners were received at the county jail during January, in addition to the 33 already confined as of Jan. 1.
Forty-eight prisoners were released during the month; six were conveyed to state institutions and four mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 229 visitors at the jail in January.
A total of 3,728 meals were served at a total cost of $1,092.82, making the average daily cost per prisoner $88.
Sheriff VanFossan reports 310 papers were served, and 7,210 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,250 phone calls at the jail. The department collected $710.03 in fees.
The sheriff's office in the Court-house accepted 64 sets of fox feet for payment of $192 during the month.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN
New Treatment for Nits, Body Lice

Ectoparasite is the fancy name we give a crawling insect that takes up residence in our hair or on our skin.
The pediculus capitis is the head louse who has a preference for a roof dwelling where there are air-cooled hairs on which to deposit eggs (nits).
The pediculus corporis is the body louse or "crab" who prefers the privacy and warmth of nonexposed hairy areas.
The itch mite of scabies likes to burrow into the webbing between the fingers and hatch its basket of eggs at the bottom of the tunnel.
Contrary to the views of many correspondents whose inquiries about ectoparasitism are either anonymous or signed with initials, an attack of pediculosis or scabies is not necessarily a social error of great magnitude.
A VISIT FROM an ectoparasite can happen to the best of us. And occasionally does. So don't be afraid to tell your doctor or your local pharmacist about it, especially if he happens to have a war record.
I think it's this reluctance to seek professional advice in the neighborhood that causes so many correspondents to complain that "they've tried everything" without success. For it's an unfortunate truth that none of the old-fashioned remedies is much good. Some, like kerosene and benzene, are dangerous because of their flammability. It's doubtful that much is accomplished by jar-spur (delphinium) or Balsam of Peru or ointments containing mercury and sulfur. And some of the newer insecticides are apt to be toxic when used in the large quantities necessary for effective action.
THERE IS, FORTUNATELY, at least one safe and effective chemical that's death to both lice and mites when used according to directions. Its official name is 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6-hexachlorocyclohexane and it's best known under the registered trade name of Kwell.
Before applying Kwell lotion, it's necessary to take a long hot bath during which involved skin areas must be briskly scrubbed with soap on a tough brush. After drying, the lotion is applied wherever it's needed, and permitted to remain on for 24 hours. At the end of this time, it's removed during the course of another tubbing and scrubbing. And treatment is completed by a complete change of bed and personal linens and clothes, and a removal of nits with a fine-toothed comb.
THE BIG PROBLEM that remains is that of preventing re-infection. For, unless the toilet seat is scrubbed and other members of the household subjected to the same treatment, if needed, the "boarders" will return little the worse for their temporary eviction.

Our quotable notables: "When you're down and out something always turns up—and it's usually the noses of your friends."—Orson Welles.
Here's some consolation in a long hard winter: cold weather may make you shiver, but it also makes your mind keener. Science has found people can do physical labor best in a temperature of 65 degrees, but are at their mental best at 40 degrees. Above 70 degrees your thinking ability falls sharply.
How much more crowded can we get? Nearly 10 per cent of the American population now lives in five cities—New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Detroit.
Oddities of well-known people: Sophia Loren, one of the world's highest paid film stars, does her own hair. Sherman Billingsley of the Stork Club signs all his checks with his initials, "S. B." This is his legal signature at his bank.
More and more fathers will have to look up to their sons in the future. By the year 2,000 one of every three American men will stand a whisker under six feet tall.
Man's place is in the home item: A survey of 600 families across the nation showed 80 per cent of the wives spent at least one evening a month out with the girls, but only 76 per cent of the husbands had a night out with the boys.
Wise-crack of the week. Actor Walter Slezak defines an old-fashioned housewife as "one who uses a can opener instead of a frozen-food saw."
Times to beware: A Connecticut highway accident study found that the most dangerous hour of the day for motorists was between 4 and 5 p. m.—and the most dangerous day was Saturday. The most dangerous month: December.
Another Soviet first? We think few things are more American than apple pie, but the Soviets claim this delicacy is only a pale imitation of their apple desert, "yablochnyi pirok," developed by peasant steppes-dwellers several years before New England was settled.
Only one of 20 Americans has ever consulted a psychiatrist. Most are women, not men.
And (Does this surprise you?) the largest occupational group receiving psychiatric help is made up not of tired, harried businessmen but frustrated housewives.
It was Dr. Beran Wolfe who observed: "No one has learned the meaning of living until he has surrendered his ego to the service of his fellow men."

Science Workshop In Mahoning County Set

Mahoning County Education Association will sponsor a science workshop and dinner Feb. 13 at 6 p. m. in Canfield High School. Reservations for the dinner may be made through Monday.
Dr. James Shuri, chief chemist for Republic Steel Corp., will speak at the dinner meeting.
Three different workshops will be conducted at 7:45 p. m., elementary science, general science, biology, or physics-chemistry.
Dr. Donald Winchell, Monticello Junior High teacher, Cleveland Heights, and Cliff Currier, representative of the Science Kit Corp., will be the speakers of the elementary group. A representative of the Health science series recently adopted in Mahoning County, will also be with this group.
The speakers for the general science-biology section are Dr. Charles Evans of Youngstown University and Mrs. Yvonne Mather, teacher at Western Reserve High School.
Those who attend the physics-chemistry session will hear Mrs. Paulette Roades, teacher of advanced chemistry at Poland High School, Joseph De Rosa of Lowellville, and Duane Ferris, an outstanding science teacher in Ash-tabula County.

THE BIG PROBLEM that remains is that of preventing re-infection. For, unless the toilet seat is scrubbed and other members of the household subjected to the same treatment, if needed, the "boarders" will return little the worse for their temporary eviction.
Proclamation Issued For Boy Scout Week
The week of Feb. 7 to 13 has been proclaimed locally as Boy Scout Week by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Wallpapering Not Difficult, But Know-How Is Essential

Most of today's wallpapers have joined the wash-and-wear brigade, making it even more practical than ever to give a room a new look with this decorative wall material.

Wallpapering can hardly be considered difficult, but a certain amount of know-how is essential if first-class results are to be achieved. With that end in view, let's summarize some of her recommended steps for getting these desired results.

WALLPAPERING CAN be done over old paper provided it is still fastened securely to the wall. Where the old paper is in such poor condition that it must be removed, it can be done with a mixture of water and wallpaper remover, available at any hardware store or dealer. A faster job is possible with a wallpaper steamer, which can be rented at most paint and wallpaper stores. Plaster walls, painted or unpainted, should be given a coat of size, which is a sharp razor blade, using a metal roller or a large putty knife as a guide. Put up the second strip and each additional strip in the order cut so that the patterns will match. Slide the edge of the strip against the edge of one already up, matching the pattern as you go along. Smooth and then run a seam roller lightly but firmly down the seams. If you do not have a seam roller a chair caster from the paper, which means fitting the edges tightly together with no overlap. This is the method we find most satisfactory, since it avoids a double thickness at the seams and has a more professional look.

Make Sure Plaster Is Dry Before You Start Painting

Veteran professional painters will remember the time when it was necessary to wait from six months to two years to begin the painting of plastered walls and ceilings.

Improved paints and plaster materials have cut this waiting period considerably. Yet trouble still lies ahead for the painter who ignores certain tell-tale signs indicating that the plaster either is not ready for painting or is in need of special preparatory treatment.

THE LARGE AMOUNTS of water used in making plaster must evaporate before any painting is done. Under normal conditions, when the temperature is not below 50 degrees and when the relative humidity is not high, plaster will dry in three to four weeks. But plaster applied to an unfurred wall, brick, tile or similar structural material will take considerably longer to dry, since the solid wall prevents evaporation from the back of the plaster. In such cases, where there is any doubt about the condition of the plaster, a moisture meter is the best device to check the progress of the drying.

THERE ARE CERTAIN imperfections that might show up in one or two areas of a wall which otherwise has dried properly. One of these is known as a "sweat-out," the other as a "dry-out." In both events, soft areas are present, accompanied by dampness in the case of a "dry-out." Their causes are opposite. A "sweat-out" comes from excessive moisture and slow drying. A "dry-out" is due to the evaporation of the water in the plaster before the gypsum has crystallized. A mild "sweat-out" can be corrected with a coat of shellac or lacquer, which serves as a hardening agent. But when the condition is severe, there is no choice except to remove the affected area and replaster. A "dry-out" can be fixed by spraying the softened section with an alum and water solution, repeating the dose if necessary.

SOMETIMES A PLASTERED wall will have a spotty appearance, with some areas seeming to be "dead." This condition, usually caused when the finish trowelling was not uniform, will result in an uneven gloss and color in the paint. An oil-type primer-sealer will prepare the wall for painting.

If the plaster is uniformly dull, it should be examined for chalk which shows up as a white powder on the hand or a cloth rubbed over the wall. This can be removed by vigorous rubbing before painting. When tiny crystals or efflorescence are found, they should be brushed off repeatedly until no more form. Since these crystals do not form instantly, painting should be delayed after the brushing to be sure additional efflorescence does not occur.

WHEN CONDITIONS ARE satisfactory, any standard interior wall finish can be used; i.e., a prime coat, followed by the decorative topcoat. But if the drying has not been completed — and it is essential that the paint be applied without further waiting — latex paints are a good choice, having good adhesion to damp surfaces and being relatively immune to alkali. A good way to do this is to apply one coat of the latex paint, which will take away the unfinished look of the plaster yet continue to allow water evaporation to take place. Then, at a later time, a second coat will add the necessary depth and durability.

Banker's Advice Important To Person Purchasing Home

A banker can be a home owner's best friend. On the day you decide to buy a house, he can do more for you than lend the money for your dream home.

Perhaps it's not a dream house, at all. The site could adversely affect the value of your investment in later years. And the design of the house might be so extreme as to make it virtually impossible to sell it later without taking a heavy loss.

The banker can advise you on such things. He might recommend against buying. It's his business to know all phases of home purchasing. He knows all the reputable

THE AMOUNT OF THE LOAN desired. The Federal Housing Administration reports that the typical buyer of an FHA-insured home last year bought a three-bedroom house valued at $14,261. The mortgage was $11,823, or 85 per cent of the face value of the home.

The bank's appraisal is not necessarily based on the current market value of the property, it may be based on its value as security for the loan.

In its appraisal, the bank may not recognize the high prices of homes in inflationary periods and it may also disregard some special features with particular attraction to a homeowner.

ALSO, THE PROPERTY may cost a great deal and it may be well suited to the needs of one family, but it may not have the

Minute Men By the Thousands

There should be time between bulletins and news flashes about the triumphs and setbacks of the missile contest with the Soviet Union to evaluate what is being done.

So far, time has been lacking. The United States has been so busy trying to out down the Soviet Union's awesome lead in missile thrust that its scientists, themselves, are not clear in their minds about evaluating what they are doing.

But if their high hopes for the Minuteman missile that has gone through its first tryout stages successfully are confirmed by similar success in later stages, time soon will be available for evaluation.

The Minuteman has stirred high hopes because it promises to be the kind of missile that will do for military security what was done in eras past by the longbow, the battering ram, TNT, the French 75, the high level bomber and the submarine. It will be the ultimate evolution of a new weapon concept.

This is because it promises to be relatively cheap to build, relatively foolproof to operate, relatively secure from counterattack. All missiles that rely on cumbersome fueling procedures and immobile bases vulnerable to attack are now obsolete. The Minuteman on land and the Polaris missile launched from submarines will be the last word.

THEY WILL NOT replace everything else; they will not replace anything else, including manned bombers. But they will be the climactic, definitive weapons of the missile era that has dawned in the latter half of the 20th century.

That is the fact to start from in evaluating missiles.

That is where each government must start from in shaping missile era policy. And that is where all governments must start from in their discussions of security.

Wanton Waste of Public Funds

U.S. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell the Harlem churchman-politician who has put an integration stumbling block in the path of federal aid to education, says he will keep the stumbling block handy for the Kennedy administration, too.

It has always been a mystery why other members of Congress let Rep. Powell, a Negro, take responsibility for blocking federal aid on this score. He argues that no federal money should be paid to schools discriminating against Negroes.

But there is a stronger reason for withholding federal aid from schools discriminating against Negroes, if federal aid to education is to be meaningful.

The Issues Come Later

An interesting primary May 2 and probably an equally attractive general election next Nov. 7 lies ahead for Salem citizens.

Newcomers have challenged incumbents in 10 instances on the Republican and Democratic tickets, according to the petitions accepted by the board of elections. Seven new faces, two of them women, have entered the Republican ranks, while eight of the Democrats are first-timers, politics-wise. The Democrats also have two representatives from the district side.

In the contest for mayor, the re-entry of Atty. Henry L. Reese into the campaign circles and the venture of Oscar L. McCann, veteran city employee, will provide the Republican voters with a drawing card. Democratic Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, unopposed at the primary, will sit it out until fall.

All in all, the municipal primaries look interesting. All that's lacking right now are the issues.

Once Over

Santa Maria sea thriller plunged us into a dream in which, Dick Nixon, following the pattern of Portugal's defeated candidate, seized a luxury liner and its passengers, insisting he constituted a seagoing government in exile. In the dream we heard passengers crying, "We began this trip with definite port in mind," and Mr. Nixon replying "I recently went through a similar disappointment. Relax." Then we distinctly got following exchange of messages:

U.S. This is plain piracy.

Nixon. (Waving returns of some close election districts) Look who's talking!

U.S. Government calls on you to surrender to pursuing naval vessels or take consequences.

Nixon. After what I went through in November nothing scares me now.

U.S. Explain your position and we don't mean in TV debate.

Nixon. — am a government in exile, a Republican in a tizzy, a seagoing refugee from an electoral college and a man who has read too many winter-cruise brochures.

U.S. Give your exact position.

Nixon. I gave my exact position last autumn and look what good it did me.

U.S. Suggest you head for Brazil.

Nixon. No dice. I know from experience what can happen to me in South America.

U.S. Last warning. You will either make port or face full force of conflicting opinions on piracy laws, Jack Bailey's National Democratic Committee and what's left of Harvard faculty.

At this point we were awakened by violent

Missiles have wiped out unilateral security. The meaning of the Polaris and Minuteman systems is that immediate and mass retaliation would follow an attack on the United States by the Soviet Union.

This retaliation would wreak such destruction that the Soviet Union would consider it too great a price to pay for a knockout blow. In theory, it would be like two pugilists knocking each other unconscious at the same instant.

If the theory is correct, nuclear war has been barred by the shared power of two great combatants to destroy each other.

THIS IS THE central thought in all discussion of arms control.

Ironically, it also is the central thought in discussion of war, because all the fission and fusion bombs and the missiles to speed them to their targets may be neutralized so completely that wars would be fought once more with rifles and bayonets on the ground.

No one used poison gas in World War II because all major combatants had it and feared the consequences of using it.

The United States never would have dropped the first atomic bombs if its war planners had known that the Japanese empire was prepared to retaliate in kind.

There will be Minutemen by the thousands one day. They will be hidden in the ground, stored in silos and moved about the country in railroad cars. Polaris missiles will be at sea in their special carriers. The United States will have the capacity for immediate and massive retaliation if attacked.

If the Soviet Union had not been afraid of retaliation through manned bombers—and if it actually has the missile systems it is presumed to have—Russian rockets long since would have destroyed every American target within range.

cation became national policy.

Discrimination against Negroes always takes the form of segregating them in separate schools. Some southern states take wry amusement from the fact that Negro schools often are newer and nicer than their schools for whites.

But there is nothing amusing about the fact that segregated school districts must support two kinds of schools—one for whites, one for Negroes. No federal taxpayer in an integrated district can be expected to pay for the high cost of prejudice in segregated states. Once word got around that federal income taxes were being used in this way, there would be massive resistance to federal taxation—not on a basis of segregation but on a basis of willful and wanton waste of public funds.

Displays in store windows and special programs will call attention to National Boy Scout Week which opens Tuesday.

The period is set aside annually so that we might recognize the unselfish service of the many volunteer leaders who give generously of their time to help the growing boys of our community, and also to commend the churches and other organizations that sponsor the Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer units. These three levels of scouting, in effect, are like stepping stones to better citizenship.

Salem and Columbiana County's Boy Scout program is in good hands, thanks to the 3,490 persons who make up the membership roster of the Columbiana Council of the Boy Scouts of America. We salute them all.

MAN ENRAGED by taxi overcharge in New York threw the money, supposedly four $1 bills into driver's face. Later found out two of the bills were thousand dollar ones. Gosh, that much money would have been almost enough to get passenger across town by cab in rush hour.

This winter's heavy snow in many sections of U.S. brings out the fact that streets and sidewalks were kept in much better shape away back in days of trolley cars. Trolley lines kept own plows going night and day and rarely was service seriously tied up. Today buses are easily kayoed.

Remember away back when people shoveled their sidewalks or faced municipal fines. Cleaning one's own sidewalk used to be regarded as duty of citizenship, out of consideration for general public and for fear of damage suit in case of bad falls. Today in countless communities only minimum effort is made to clear walks.

Prexy Kennedy's choice of a woman White House physician may be extra wise. Too many male guardians of presidents' health have seemed lax, seldom enforcing orders for chief executives to take it easier. But when a woman lays down the law she "ain't" fooling. She is pretty certain to say "Cut out those extra ribbon cuttings and dedication speeches or get a new doctor."

Anxious Moment On the New Frontier

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Breaking in a new phrase is like breaking in a new silk top hat—they're so awkward until, for some reason, you use them quite a bit.

The new phrase and the top hat are linked these days because they symbolize Walter Reuther and John F. Kennedy as 1961 rushes through the winter into the 'auto industry crisis. This new phrase is "Production Standards."

"You'll hear more and more about it — as once you did 'guaranteed annual wage' — when the auto union begins jousting and then bargaining with the 'Big Three' car companies.

"Production Standards" refers to speed of work on the assembly line. How fast should the line move? How swiftly should cars be made? How much relief and time out should each auto worker have?

Should management have the sole right to set the rate of output?

THIS WILL BE one of the red hot issues between Reuther's union and the corporations in the months before the contracts expire this summer. Within a month, perhaps six weeks, special teams of union officials will hold regional hearings on "Production Standards."

They'll be dispatched to the localities by the top "Production Standards" committee, directed by Emil Mazey, United Auto Workers secretary-treasurer. He is as tough a bargainer as there is this side of John L. Lewis.

These hearings will be held in local UAW headquarters where most of the "witnesses" are expected to come from General Motors plants.

When the hearings are over, the reports will be brought in by Mazey to another special Auto Union International Executive Board session early in April.

There is no doubt that behind the many union arguments the men will have for cutting into management's right to set production pace there is a haunting fear that the swifter the cars are whipped out, the sooner there will be layoffs.

THIS FEAR of dwindling jobs is what occupied — and preoccupied — the auto union leaders' high command session in Detroit during the week of Jan. 23.

Long ago they knew what President Kennedy reported in his State of the Union speech. There are a million unsold cars. But what he did not say is that 900,000 of these are last year's models and this effects the state of the auto union.

If the companies can't sell out last year's model, they will make far fewer of this year's. Already 200,000 auto jobs have been wiped out. Union membership now stands at about one million. It soon may be less.

At the UAW board meeting, one official said that the industry has sufficient equipment now to turn out in six months a full banner year's production.

For a week, the auto union leaders talked of solutions to their problem — what to ask of the companies now that sales are down, jobs are down and production capacity up because of the wizardry of new machinery.

THEY HAVE no real answer. They knew they wanted John Kennedy's help and the aid of the Congress too, perhaps in shortening the 40-hour legal work week; perhaps in a big road-building program requiring new trucking equipment. But basically they knew they would have to count on the hurly-burly of tough bargaining with equally tough bargainers.

What would they want in addition to new "Production Standards"? There is another committee, Reuther's committee on wages, and pensions, vacations and the work week. They may ask for longer vacations. They may demand earlier retirement of workers at 60 or a shorter work week.

Whatever the formula, whatever the official demands are, the basic drive will basically be for the sharing of available work by all the workers.

This will dissatisfy those workers who have the seniority to keep them in steady employment. This will lead to pressure on the union leaders for tougher demands.

This may well lead to a strike, backed by a $40 million war chest. And then directly to the man in the White House.

The President will find that the new phrases will cause many a headache and that uneasy lies the head which wears the top hat.

SIDE GLANCES

"You see, Gram, everything's speeded up nowadays, so 11 o'clock comes a lot sooner than it used to!"

Significant Suggestion

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Proposal for Tax Law Changes Commended

President Kennedy's latest message to Congress on the economic situation is in some respects the most important he has yet delivered for it affords an insight into the kind of policies he intends to sponsor in the field of business.

The first part of the message is mostly theory. Who knows.

For instance, what the national growth might have been in the last few years if the economy had realized its "possible" expansion? Who can say just why there has been "a failure to use our full capacity"? Mr. Kennedy says, for instance, that corporate profits "could have been 5 billion dollars higher" than they were in 1960. But he doesn't tell how this could have been done in the face of declining business due to the after-effects of the steel strike.

In general terms, the President proposes now "to expand the nation's investments in physical and human resources, and in science and technology."

This is a worthy ideal but the question of just how to do it isn't covered in the message. There is one point, however, which may afford a clue.

The President, for instance, says pointedly that "long-term interest rates should decline" and that "a further decline in short-term interest rates, under present conditions, would lead to a further outflow of funds abroad."

This means in its simplest form that Mr. Kennedy recognizes how much the international economy has become interwoven with the national economy and that artificially to depress interest rates within the United States might be good politics in one sense but can wreck the gold position of America by forcing foreign holders of money to transfer their funds to Europe, where they'll get higher interest rates.

Although the message contains many proposals for pump priming which are reminiscent of the blunders of New Deal days, there are certain items suggested that are necessary to alleviate immediate distress which are commendable.

IT IS in the long-range category — what shall be done to lift the economy out of its present downturn — that the President has made a very significant suggestion.

He has not described in detail his recommendation for what are termed special tax incentives to bring about expansion and modernization of the nation's productive plant but the fact that he recommends a modification of the tax laws to provide those "incentives for investment in plant and equipment" is highly important.

Most interesting of all, however, is the carefully phrased statement of the President about inflation and price stability. He says:

"Government can help further by encouraging labor and management to find ways to smooth the adjustment to technological change."

"Accordingly, I shall issue an executive order establishing the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy, with members drawn from labor, management and the public."

"The committee is directed to advise the President with respect to actions that may be taken by labor, management and the public which will promote free and responsible collective bargaining, industrial peace, sound wage policies, sound price policies and stability, a higher standard of living, increased productivity, and America's competitive position in world markets."

"I look to the committee to make an important contribution to labor-management relations and an understanding of their importance to the stability of prices and the health of the economy."

"All of us must now be conscious of the need for policies that enable American goods to compete successfully with foreign goods. We cannot afford unsound wage and price movements which push up costs, weaken our international competitive position, restrict job opportunities and jeopardize the health of our domestic economy."

"Neither will we seek to buy short-run economic gains by paying the price of excessive increases in the cost of living. Always a cruel tax upon the weak, inflation is now the certain road to a balance of payments crisis and the disruption of the international economy of the Western world."

DOES THIS mean that irresponsibility in labor unions is at last to be tackled?

The steel strike, with its displacement of inventories, was one of the major causes of the present recession and yet labor leaders have shown no sign of abating their demand to get all they can irrespective of the unemployment caused in their own and other industries.

A labor-management committee at the president's elbow is at least a start in the right direction. Certainly publicity of the real facts can do more than wage-price control itself to avert crises and stop economic recessions.

New York Herald Tribune

What Crisis In Laos?

By TRUMAN TWILL

There will be less news from Laos from now on, to the delight of news spoliars who couldn't pronounce the mixed up names and proofreaders, who didn't know whether Xat was a mistake or the name of a political party.

It seems the extraordinary thing which was supposed to be happening in Laos never happened. It was like hundreds of situations that are made out of the whole cloth by exploiters who have learned how to manipulate rumor.

In an interview with The New York Times last week, the government of Laos said it had been guilty of issuing a false alarm when it asked for help against invasion by Communist troops. Its cry of "Wolf!" was intended only to impress local yokels with their government's strong connections with the United Nations and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

But all of a sudden the situation got out of hand. Next thing the Laotians politicians knew the whole world was yacking about a crisis in Laos.

There's trouble, all right. The government of Laos is challenged by rebels who are getting help from outside the country — mostly from neighboring North Vietnam. The help is Communist. But there is nothing new about it.

There was no emergency, no massive invasion. It just so happened that so many people in so many parts of the world are sensitive to the danger of communism that a chronic problem was made to seem like an acute problem by a yell for help.

The moral is plain but it will be ignored, because to do anything else would be to get into deep, hot water. There isn't a cagey politician alive in a non-Communist nation who hasn't pondered the possibility of blowing off the lid by hollering "Help the Communists are coming!"

What they hope will be coming when they holler is a shipment of American money, and they have been remarkably successful with this plot. The United States has shipped money all over the world under this system of wolf-crying. And now it is trying to slow down its outward-bound gold.

Not that the menace of communism is imaginary. It's real, all right. But that the menace can be rumbled like a sheet of tin to simulate thunder for play-actors — that's what raises hob.

For weeks, we have been asking each other what we think about Laos, and it is remarkable how much we have embroidered on what was nothing but a politician's ploy.

It happens all the time. It happens in this country. Situations suddenly are "discovered" and become acute. The embroidery starts.

There's a story that illustrates the point. There are places in this country that are flooded whenever high water occurs. The floods become dramatic emergencies, useful for drumming up contributions for disaster victims. A former resident of one of these places was talking about this.

"What no one realizes," he said, "is that people who live there think of floods as a condition of existence. Sure, they're bad. They do a lot of damage. People must get in boats and move to safety. But how can anything be a disaster that happens year in and year out?"

So what do you think of the crisis in Laos? What crisis? The Laotians are having more of the same.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 22 years old and I've been told by women as well as men that I am beautiful.

My measurements are similar to "Miss Michigan's," take or give an inch here and there. My face is the classic beauty type — high cheekbones and slender nose.

I've always been interested in dramatics and I want to be an actress. The trouble is, my legs aren't very good. They are bowed. Is there any exercise or surgical operation to correct this defect? If it weren't for my legs I think I could be a great dramatic actress.

Can you help me? — ADELLE.

Dear Adelle: If you want to be an actress it doesn't matter whether your legs are like this () or like this () . I know of no exercises that will help and my medical consultants tell me that surgery is advisable only in cases of extreme physical deformity.

Perennial Playboy

Dear Ann: Two years ago I married a nice, home-loving girl. Five months later I took out a waitress on a date. There wasn't much to it. I just wanted to show the fellows I could. My wife found out about it and it raised a big fuss—tears and the whole miserable bit.

I promised her I'd never do it again and meant to keep my word. Everything was great until she went home to care for her sick mother in November. She was gone three weeks and I had to eat in restaurants all the time.

A guy can get pretty lonesome, so I weakened and asked the waitress if she'd like to go out after work. We went together about five times after that. Mostly laughs and like that.

I don't know how my wife found out but she did. Now she says she'll never trust me again. Please help me to get her to understand that boys will be boys. —HIC-CUP.

Dear Hic. Boys will be boys all right but they look pretty silly the second time around. Since your weakness seems to be visited when you're on your own?

A man whose record is as shoddy as yours has to work doubly hard at building his wife's confidence. It's performance that counts — so get busy, Bub.

Brainy Family

Dear Ann: A girl friend has been in my room since the third grade. We are now high school juniors. She has not done one page of homework in all this time.

Her grandfather does her history, her uncle does her math and her mother reads all the books she is supposed to report on for English. This girl's brother is very good at Spanish and he does every bit of her translating.

I work hard in school and do all my own homework. But her grades are always better than mine and it burns me up. I feel like telling the teachers. Do you think I would be justified? —HONEST BUT UNSUCCESSFUL.

Dear H but U: Don't be so hasty with the Informer bit. Nobody could fake out the teachers to the extent that you suggest. Who recites for this girl in class? Who takes her exams? Surely not her relatives. The girl may be getting help, which I agree is unfair but she must know more than you think or the roof would have caved in long ago.

Ohio State Should Get Stiff Test From Indiana Tonight

Buckeyes Have Won 21 Straight Since Losing to Hoosiers in '60

O.U. Drubs Michigan, Toledo Belts Ohio U. in Headliners Saturday

F. FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's brilliant Buckeyes have won 21 straight games since they lost to Indiana last season at Bloomington by a 99-83 score.

Fre Taylor's quintet, unanimous choice as the country's best, and boasting the longest winning streak in the land, get a chance to avenge the 1960 loss as the Hoosiers invade St. John Arena tonight.

The Bucks annihilated last-place Michigan Saturday by a whopping 81-58 score, despite the regulars sitting out almost a fourth of the game. At the same time Indiana was running its conference record to a third-place 3-1 with a 90-78 conquest of Northwestern—a team the Bucks beat by 79-45. Ohio leads the loop with 6-0. Iowa is second with 4-1.

Cincinnati's Bearcats upset sixth-ranked Iowa at Chicago Saturday night by a resounding 77-60 count. The Cats, winning their 11th straight after a shaky start, led 43-30 at the half and were never in danger.

Put Hondo On Bellamy
Walt Bellamy's Indiana's 6-10½ Olympic star, scored 34 against Northwestern, and probably will be dogged tonight by Hondo Havlicek, the mustard plaster defensive star of the Bucks. Hondo, in addition to his defensive chores, hit nine of nine shots from the field against Michigan for 18 points to tie Mel Nowell for the top spot.

The Bucks beat Indiana in a 96-95 squeaker here last year, but the Hoosiers turned the tables with a vengeance on their home hardwoods. Despite Indiana's 10-4 record against Ohio's sweet 16 in a row, tonight's fray before a packed house could go either way.

Ohio has the better statistics, averaging 86.8 on offense to Indiana's 74.8, and holding a 63.8 to 66.4 edge on defense.

Toledo Crushes Ohio U.
Toledo came up with one of the season's big conquests Saturday, the Rockets smacking down Mid-American leader Ohio University by a huge 95-68 margin. That left the Bobcats with a 7-1 league record to 6-1 for the Rockets—and unless an upset occurs along the way the pair will play off for the NCAA tourney berth. Earlier Ohio U. triumphed 55-50 over Toledo, but everyone else in the circuit has lost at least three.

Wittenberg defeated Marietta 50-36, and Otterbein surprised Wooster 80-69, to give the Wittenbergers a clear shot at their third straight Ohio Conference crown. The Lutherans, with three to go, lead the circuit with 7-0. Capital vaulting from fifth to second with 9-2 by nailing out Heidelberg 63-59.

Defensive skill is paying off for Wittenberg. Only five of its 16 opponents have scored over 50 points, just one over 60. Seven Ohio Conference foes are averaging only 41. Hiram, last in the loop with eight straight losses, has a better scoring record than unbeaten Wittenberg, 59.6 to 59.1—so defense is the difference.

Heavy Action This Week
The Ohio colleges stage their biggest flurry of the season this week, 56 games including these features:

Monday: Indiana at Ohio State, Detroit at Xavier.

Tuesday: Heidelberg at Wittenberg.

Wednesday: Miami at Ohio U., Toledo at Bowling Green, Xavier at Western Kentucky.

Thursday: St. Louis at Cincinnati, Dayton-Seton Hall at New York.

Friday: Hiram at Capital, Wooster at Denison.

Saturday: Ohio State at Michigan State, Western Michigan at Miami, Kent State at Ohio U., Capital at Akron, Marietta at Wooster, Wittenberg at Muskingum, Ashland at Defiance, Toledo at Drake, Creighton at Dayton, Marquette at Xavier.

Battle Lines Drawn for Men
The battle lines are drawn tightly as to the best senior men's speedskater in the country but Jeanne Ashworth has the women's field all to herself.

Miss Ashworth skated off with her second major title on successive weekends when she won the senior women's crown Sunday in the North American Outdoor Championships. A week ago in St. Paul, Minn., she dethroned Mary Novak of Chicago in the National Outdoor Championships. Miss Novak was unable to make the North American.

Arnold Uhrlass won the senior men's title but never got a second shot at Ed Rudolph of Chicago, who edged him by two points in the National. Uhrlass doesn't think he'll get another shot at Rudolph this year either, for he doesn't plan to enter the North American Indoor Championship five weeks hence in Buffalo, N.Y.

Miss Ashworth, a high school physical education teacher in Massachusetts, complained of lack of practice time and hopes it won't keep her out of the indoor championships. However, she felt she skated just about as well Sunday as she ever has.

Her best here was a first place in every event but the one-mile, the final one in her division and she finished second to Gail Purdy, Syracuse, N.Y. She easily beat Kathy Harrington, Syracuse, N.Y. 23-13 in the over-all standings.

Uhrlass, only one point in front of St. Paul's Floyd Bedbury going into Sunday's round, had 24 points. Bedbury finished with 15, twice finishing second to Uhrlass in long distance events.

Braulio Baeza led stakes winning jockeys during the 1960 racing season in Chicago. He captured five stakes.

Crying Towel Dry; Hoople Starts Over

Egad, friends, Hoople has the crying towel out this week but it seems he has loads of company. Har-wamp!

Kenny Cunningham, Kenny Miller and cohorts at East Liverpool literally stole a game away from Salem Friday night but by committing those 18 turnovers the Quakers hung a big "welcome" sign on the cash box lid.

Although usually reliable teams like Salem, Minerva, Lowellville and Poland failed to come through on the right night, Hoople still survived the weekend with 18 correct predictions to go along with the 8 misses.

Five games are on tap in the area Tuesday night and they provide an excellent opportunity for us to fatten our season's prediction record which now stands at 117 right and 34 wrong.

TUESDAY
Greenford 67, Western Reserve 43: Greenford's hopes of winning the Inter-County League crown went down the drain when McDonald dumped Lowellville last week, but this won't stop the Bobcats from trouncing the Blue Devils for the second time this season.

Steubenville Central 58, Wellsville 55: Wellsville is finally starting to live up to its high preseason rating. However, the band box that Steubenville plays in is enough to give any invading team fits, including the Tigers.

United 71, Jackson-Milton 35: This is the game that got snowed out at United last Friday. Only a similar stroke of luck Tuesday

Ohio State Seeks Big Ten Sweep

Illinois 'Whiz Kids' Pulled Trick in 1943

By The Associated Press
If somebody doesn't "beat them Bucks" pretty soon, Ohio State could become the first basketball team to go through the Big Ten without defeat since Illinois' Whiz Kids of 1943.

Ohio State is also seeking to become the first Big Ten team in 43 years to go through an entire season undefeated.

Not since the 1918 Minnesota team has a Big Ten school had a perfect season in basketball. The 1918 Gophers had a 10-0 conference record and were 13-0 for all games.

If Ohio State handles Indiana tonight, the Buckeyes face a major hurdle two weeks from now. On Feb. 18 they play at Iowa (4-1) and two nights later will be at Indiana.

However Ohio's expected run-away of the conference title could materialize this week. If Ohio State defeats Indiana tonight and Michigan State Saturday and Indiana defeats Iowa Saturday by the end of the week OSU could have an 8-0 record with Indiana and Iowa tied for second with 4-2 marks.

Then it would be no longer a matter of who will win the title but whether Ohio State can remain undefeated.

Aside from OSU's 80-58 whipping of Michigan and Indiana's 90-78 win over Northwestern Saturday, Illinois pulled an upset at Minnesota, 65-60, to break a three-game Gopher winning streak; and Terry Dischinger scored 30 points in leading Purdue to a 69-58 triumph over Wisconsin.

Iowa and Michigan State went out against nonleague foes and both were defeated. Iowa fell before a hot Cincinnati team, 77-60, in Chicago Stadium, and Michigan State lost at Northern Michigan, 79-71.

Two conference games besides the Indiana — OSU contest are scheduled tonight: Wisconsin at Illinois and Michigan at Purdue. Michigan State plays a nonleague at Notre Dame.

Baylor Scores 45 As Lakers Defeat Pistons

By The Associated Press
If Elgin Baylor could play all his games against the Detroit Pistons, his race with Wilt Chamberlain for the National Basketball Association scoring lead might be closer—and the second-place race in the NBA Western Division might not be so close.

Baylor has averaged over 41 points in 11 games against the Pistons this season, well above his figure for all games. He tossed in 45 Sunday as he led the Los Angeles Lakers to a 125-120 victory that trimmed Detroit's second-place margin to 1½ games.

So what happened to Baylor in the personal duel? He lost more ground as Chamberlain scored 55 points—11 in an overtime period—and led the Philadelphia Warriors to a 136-128 victory over the hapless New York Knickerbockers.

In other Sunday games, the Boston Celtics edged the St. Louis

Hawks 123-121 as Sam Jones shot two seconds before the finish decided a thriller between the divisional leaders and the Syracuse Nationals trimmed the Cincinnati Royals 129-115.

Red Wings Rip Canadiens; Rangers Roll

By The Associated Press
A slump has cost the Montreal Canadiens, winner of the Stanley Cup the past five years, the National Hockey League lead.

Beaten 7-2 by the Detroit Red Wings Sunday night, the Canadiens now have won only one of their last seven games. They fell three points behind the Toronto Maple Leafs, who played a 1-1 tie with Chicago. What's more striking to the fans, goalie Charlie Hodge has had 16 goals whistle past him in the last three games.

Hodge replaced Jacques Plante in the Montreal goal after 21 games this season when Plante was injured. Until just lately, he did well enough that Plante couldn't get the job back.

Another goalie, Lorne (Gump) Worsley of the New York Rangers, figured prominently in Sunday night's NHL action as the Rangers whipped the last-place Boston Bruins 5-2. Worsley was struck in the left eye by a shot from Andre Pronovost's stick early in the first period. He came back with three stitches in cuts around the eye and turned in a fine performance.

well of Dallas won more prestige, by playing 90 holes of golf in 345 strokes.

But slender Don January of Dallas won a lot more money, by playing one hole of golf in one stroke.

Maxwell, who hadn't won a tournament on the PGA tour since the 1958 Memphis Open, got $5,300 for coming home ahead of 63 other pros in Sunday's final round.

January won a $50,000 bonus prize for scoring a hole in one—the first of his 24-year golfing career—three days earlier.

A non-Texan, handsome Ken Venturi, probably won the most sympathy by blowing a slim lead with a 4-over-par 8 on the fourth to last hole of the tournament. Venturi, of Palo Alto, Calif., wound up tied for fifth.

The last 18 hole were played at Tamarisk Country Club, where the men in charge of pin placement accomplished their job in such a devilish manner that the course might have been the toughest of the five used during the five-day event.

Maxwell shot a 1-under-par 71 and finished two strokes ahead of Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif. Sanders, who covered the final 18 in 69, won $3,400.

Arnold Palmer, who won here a year ago with a final-round 65, finished with a flourish again, but his 69 left him with an over-all score of 348, a stroke behind Sanders. Palmer won $2,200.

Bill Casper Jr. took fourth prize of $1,900 with a 75 and a 349 total.

Venturi and Bob Rosburg tied for fifth at 359 and got $1,600 apiece.

January's 90-hole score of 359 actually increased his earnings here to more than $50,000. He got $18.34 for tying for 40th place. He has won $54,160 this year.

The National Boxing Association's version of the world light heavyweight boxing title, stripped from Archie Moore for his failure to defend within the time limit, will be up for grabs Tuesday at Miami Beach.

Harold Johnson, 32-year old Philadelphia who once was knocked out by Moore in a title fight (1954), is favored to win the vacated title in a 15-round match with Jesse Bowdry, 23-year-old St. Louis boxer. Bowdry whipped Willie Pastrano Dec. 27 at Miami Beach to get the shot.

Toledo Loses Hockey Tilt

Spectators, St. Paul Players In Wild Melee

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A chair-tossing and stick-swinging battle broke out between spectators and St. Paul players at an International Hockey League game here Sunday. St. Paul beat Toledo 6-5, but the final second of the contest wasn't played.

It took a 20-man police detail to restore order.

The melee was touched off after Gerry Moore of Toledo scored his third goal, in 19:59 of the third period. Then the buzzer sounded the end of the game.

St. Paul players, led by goalie Jacques Marcotte, rushed to the scorers' table to protest the goal was scored after the buzzer. A spectator heckled Marcotte, who swung a stick at the fan.

Spectators swarmed to the area of battle. The entire St. Paul team rushed in, attacking spectators with sticks. Fans tossed chairs on the ice. The St. Paul players tossed the chairs back into the crowd.

Two spectators were injured slightly during the ruckus. Police escorted the visiting players to their dressing room. Referee Jack Patterson, fearing a recurrence of Saturday she hit the wire a half-length in front of Paris Pike. Geechee Lou was third.

Dead last down the back stretch Hirsch Jacobs's starter somehow found opening lanes among tiring horses Saturday and flew down the stretch to win the $60,400 Santa Margarita Handicap at 1 1/2 miles in 1:49 3/5.

As her $48,600 win payoff suggests, she was a surprise victor. She had run four races this winter at Santa Anita, running out three times and placing third in her last out Feb. 1.

Minerva's Winning Streak Halted; McDonald Cops Title

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

The shattering of Minerva's 37-game Tri-County League winning streak by Poland and the clinching of the Inter-County League crown by McDonald highlighted Saturday's action on the area high school basketball front.

Minerva's 67-51 defeat at Poland was the Lions' first Tri-County loop setback since Columbiana pulled the trick in the final game of the 1957-58 season. Minerva still has a 26-game home winning streak going.

Poland built up a six-point lead, 20-14, in the first quarter. The Bulldogs were still on top, 48-43, at the three-quarter mark, then pulled away in the fourth period to win by 16 points.

High point man for Poland was Bill Zimmer with 25. Big Don Miller led Minerva with 20.

Bowling Scores

Ann DeJane rolled a 506—185-176 to lead all bowlers in the Ladies Buckeye League at Timberlakes over the weekend.

Other high scores in that loop were recorded by Dorothy Alek, 498—198; Erma Rapp 496—185; Erma Burrier, 495—192-176; Mary Dole, 492—175-170; Julia Ellis, 488—190; Ethel Bricker, 483; Ada Hanna, 483—170; Darlene Felton, 479; Dorothy Vogelhuber, 479; Ruth May 471—172; and Anna Mae Eyster, 471—185.

In single games, Dorothy Elvick rolled a 204 and Jean Sommers came up with a 194.

Gra Del Beauty had a team high series score of 2326. Logue Monuments posted an 854 single game.

Joe Good turned in a 551 and Russ Stallsmith recorded a 550 to set the pace in the Pastime League. Fred Sommers carded a 534; Pete Evenhoff, 524—208; and Bob Faulkner, 520.

Team honors went to Dee Ex-cavating which had a 2715—942.

In the Salem Mixed League, Ruth Gurney led the women with a 466 while Carl Sekely paced the men with a fine 601—212-208-181.

Mary Brian had a 442—182 and Ruth Greenwood carded a 424.

Other high scores turned in by the men included Gordon Scott's 561—195 and Bud Shaffer's 553—209.

Team honors were picked up by the Pars which had a 1904—664.

Columbiana Rebounds
Rich Harold tossed in 27 points as the Columbiana Clippers shook a three-game losing streak with a 70-43 win over Sebring. Jerry Greiner's 16 markers were high for the Trojans.

Columbiana is now 6-4 in league competition and 9-5 for the season. Sebring has a 3-7 Tri-County League record and is 3-11 overall, including an upset win over Poland last Friday.

Lisbon's Win Streak Halted
In the other Tri-County League game Saturday, Louisville handed Lisbon its 13th defeat in 14 starts. Gary Allen's 23 points paced the Leopards to an 85-49 victory, running their season record to 5-9.

Lisbon, who had won its only game of the season the previous night against Leontonia, got 12 points from Dick Early and 11 from Craig Pannier.

McDonald completed its sweep over all five foes in the Inter-

County League by nipping Lowellville, 53-51. The Blue Devils succeeded Canfield as loop champions. Canfield is now in the Turnpike Conference.

Pat Patterson notched 20 points for McDonald while Jim Dovich featured with 18 for Lowellville. McDonald improved its season record to 12-4. Lowellville has won eight and dropped 6.

Two other Inter-County League teams were in action Saturday against non-loop foes.

Manchester Scores 30
Ward Manchester burned the nets for 30 points, a new season high for North Lima, as the Zip-pers posted a 61-54 decision over Mineral Ridge. Jim Sahli tossed in 20 points for Western Reserve but the Blue Devils went down to their 14th loss in 15 games, this time at the hands of Fowler, 66-51.

Canfield assured itself of no worse than a tie for the Turnpike Conference crown by virtue of a 43-24 victory over Jackson-Milton. The Cards hiked their league record to 4-0 and their season record to 10-4. Jackson-Milton went down to its 14th straight defeat without a victory.

Bob Dove's 18 points were high for Canfield. Bob Long had nine for the losing Blue Jays.

United Rolls Up 88 Points
United stayed in contention for the Turnpike Conference crown by crushing hapless Warren St. Mary's, 88-34. United now has a 2-1 league record and is 4-10 for the season. St. Mary's lost its fourth straight Conference game and has now dropped 11 of 13 frays this season.

United cleared its bench in the fray and 11 of the Golden Eagles broke into the scoring column. Johnny Hanna led the way with 19 points. The leading scorer in the Conference, Jerry Schaffer, was just one point behind Hanna with 18. Warren St. Mary's high point man was Frank Chicko with 9.

Beaver Beats Springfield
Springfield Local stepped out of the Conference and absorbed a 56-50 defeat at the hands of strong Beaver Local. Dick Brungard hooped 17 points and Jack Rauch added 14 for Springfield.

Jim Pike with 15 and Big Mike Durbin with 14 markers paced the Beavers who now have won 11 games and dropped only three this season. The Tigers have a 3-8 season record and are 2-1 in conference play.

Springfield Local, down eight points at halftime, rallied to tie the score at 42-42 at the three-quarter mark. However, Coach Jack Frontone's taller Beaver quieted what it took a the clutch and won by six points.

Three other Columbiana County teams were in action Saturday. Salmville clobbered Augusta 92-57; Wellsville edged Midland, Pa., 47-44, and East Liverpool drubbed Youngstown East, 56-41.

Salineville Ace Hoops 40
Ronnie Giannone rammed home 40 points, just seven short of the school record, in Salineville's rout of Augusta. The win embled the Indians to even their season record at 7 and 7. Coach Dick Jones' crew has come on after a slow start to win five of its last six games.

Wellsville continued its improved play and chalked up its sixth win in 11 games. Midland suffered its sixth setback in 17 games. High point man for Wellsville was Bob Kiggins with 19. Steve Baldwin added 14 for the Tiers.

Wellsville broke 37-37 third period tie to post its victory.

Salem City Hospital Candid Observations

(Sixth Article of a Series on Hospital Information)

The Big Decision

We believe as most people do that hospital costs are too high. The question is: can anything be done to curb the spiraling cost without hindering the service?

This is a matter of great concern — so much so, that the state of Pennsylvania has appropriated $500,000 to make an investigation of hospital facilities and operating costs. A 44 man commission has been appointed headed by Francis R. Smith, State Insurance Commissioner. This was announced November 14th in the Pittsburgh papers. Similarly the Cleveland papers carried numerous articles in November about the Cleveland Blue Cross hearings on a 22.4% hike necessitated by soaring hospital costs. This was held before Edward A. Stowell, Ohio Superintendent of Insurance. At that time it was suggested that a commission be appointed to study hospital costs in Ohio.

We have approached the problem of rising hospital costs at the Salem City Hospital — with the only tools available to us — enthusiasm and common sense.

With this in mind, the first thing we looked at were our major expenses:

Payroll expenses 60%

Supplies & Maintenance 18%

Fees 10%

Food 6%

Depreciation 6%

The first big question that comes to us was: what REAL CONTROL does top management have over these expenditures? The immediate answer was: unfortunately, very little control, if any.

Historically, hospitals have been looked upon as institutions, not businesses. As such, their only purpose was to serve a good cause and costs were not important. Now that costs are definitely a factor to be dealt with, hospitals must more closely resemble a business by introducing cost control through effective management. Where do we start? The first thing required is a BIG DECISION by the top management. "That is to accept this responsibility with all the vigor, determination and drive that can be mustered, for it will require just that and more!"

Hospital executives must walk on the same pillars to "New Frontiers" as will President Kennedy by his own pledge — "with courage, judgment, integrity and dedication."

It is no longer fashionable for hospital executives to be just "nice guys" whose main goal in life is to be well-liked by everybody in and around the hospital and the community.

Hospital management today is made to order for a new, crusading administration and nothing will be solved until the basic decision is made to stand and fight out the problems.

This decision we have made.
